10 – 20° incline

Water is poured onto a cloth over the detainee's nose and mouth, filling the sinuses and air passages with water and simulating sensations of drowning.

Waterboarding